The Use of Stanchions.
After thirty years' use of stanchions
Mr. John Gould decrees that they must go to the wood pile. He tells in Rural New Yorker that his new stable is furnished with double stalls and neck chain
"ies that allow great freedom of motion, and by the shoulder partitions they are afforded no chance to use their horns on their neighbors. They lie down and rise up in comfort, and can sleep with their head on their sides or rest their muzzles on the manger boards and dream of full baskets of comingilage. When he sees them so comfortable he reproaches himself for hanging on to stanchions so many years because they were handy. The argument for the stanchion was all on his side. The comfort of the cow and her wishes as to freedom of movement were not considered.

SENATE RELECTION.

It is told of Hon. Alexander McKenzie that when he was running the political mill at Ottawa between 1873 and 1878, he remarked to one of his confidential friends that the Senators would not die off while he was in power so he could fill their places with his old supporters, but that so devoted were Sir John's followers in the Senate that they would even die off to oblige him by making room for those who wanted to place their services at the disposal of Sir John in the Canadian House of Lords. We cannot vouch for the statement attributed to Sandy, but the fact that there are now seven vacancies in the Senate looks as though the truth was there all the same whether the honorable gentleman said so or not. Probably if McKenzie had so administered the affairs of state as to secure the confidence of Canadians and had remained in power these last dozen years he might have had a chance to bury some of his old Senator friends and make berths for others. Some at least of them he might have very wisely sent to the lunatic asylum without having been himself counted insane.

By common consent it seems to be admitted that the party in power at Ottawa has the right to appoint new senators from the ranks of their old supporters, and so long as the country is governed by party it will be so. Though Sir John did make a big break not so very long ago on party tactics by appointing high court judges from the ranks of his party opponents. But, taking it for granted that a Conservative will get the place vacant in the Northwest, the next point to consider is what district shall be chosen from. Before confederation, when the Senate was elective, the Canada of those days was divided into legislative council districts. The Upper House at that time having not attained the dignity of a Senate though exercising the same functions for united Canada, east and west as it was called, as the Senate now does for the Dominion. By this division the representative principle according to population and importance of district was recognized and carried into effect. When the confederation of the four original provinces was brought about, it was decided by the fathers of the scheme which was composed of the wise heads of all political shades to reinvest the crown with the power to appoint Senators. But the principal of representation was retained and has been generally fairly carried out, with a few exceptions between 1873 and 1878. Now, that principle having been adopted and found to work for the welfare of the country, we think it should be adhered to in the appointment we are now advocating to be made in the place of the late Senator Hardisty, and as we have before said, we claim the appointment for Alberta for reasons which we have not space in this article to enumerate, but may refer to again. If Lord Stanley were to be the sole judge in the case instead of acting by the advice of his responsible ministers, possessing as he does now a pretty thorough knowledge of the Northwest, Alberta as its capital would have nothing to fear as to His Excellency's choice.

THE VACANT SENATORSHIP.

It may seem to many, very indelicate to take up through the press at so early a date after the death of the late Senator Hardisty, the question of who shall be chosen by the executive at Ottawa to occupy the honorable position so recently filled by that much lamented gentleman. We fully agree with those who may regard it as unseemly hasty to begin the discussion of a successor before the remains of the late Senator for Alberta had been consigned to the silent tomb. We would gladly refrain from so doing if the actions of others permitted us to do so. But scarcely had the people of Calgary and indeed of all points of Alberta which are reached by telegraph, recovered from the shock of the sad and startling news of Mr. Hardisty's death, than over the same wires came rushing as an indecent requiem for the funeral of the lamented gentleman, the statement that Mr. McKay would be the deceased Senator's successor. The unmanly scurrying for the dollars and cents of a High Court clerkship, and the sudden jump for a Senatorship so sadly made vacant leads one to ask, do we live in a Christian age. Having been forced in the interest of Alberta to take up the question, we reluctantly do so. Having during the same period that it took Israelites to journey from Egypt to the Promised Land under all circumstances advocated through the press the appointment of such men and the carrying of such political measures as we believed to be in the interests of the country, we will not now shrink from our duty to Alberta in claiming for this district that a resident of Alberta shall be appointed to the vacant Senatorship as against a gentleman who rushed to the front with its demand before Alberta's Senator was buried. On the point of representation in the Northwest we are prepared to advocate the claim of the Territories to three Senators. Nor do we blush a bit when we say that we are fairly entitled to it by the existing status of things in the Territories as compared with the old provinces. On this point we intend to review the compact entered into re Senators at the time of confederation, at an early day. There is one more phase of the question which Albertans to express itself on at once and in a manner not to be misunderstood, that is, when will the appointment be made. It has been stated by some whose position would be supposed to entitle them to know how the Government will be likely to act in this matter, that no appointment will be made for two years. Our interpretation of that statement is that it is to be held open till after the general elections, to be served out as a solace to some unlucky candidate. We are not prepared to believe that Sir John would do such an injustice to this rapidly developing country. Alberta is now at an age when legislation for new Territories (so far as Canada is concerned) is an experiment. Alberta has but one member in the Commons and will not likely have more than that one till next general election, when it is to be hoped the population will have so increased as to warrant Sir John in dividing Alberta into south centre and north constituencies. But till then the growing interests of this great district are too much for one man, no matter how competent to grapple with them. We therefore demand that Alberta shall be represented in the Senate at next session of Parliament.

SINGLE RULE OF THREE.

Most of our twelve-year-old boys and probably some younger could work out an ordinary question in the rule of three and give a correct answer. When a few days ago we saw both the financial and skilled agents of three great companies, namely, the Bell Telephone Company, the Edison Electric Light Company and one of the Alternating Electric Light Companies of New York, with Mayor Marsh, Councillor Murdoch, acting chairman of the fire, water and light and Councillor Orr, chairman of public works and property for an audience. We were led to reflect what does all this mean. We tried to gather our ideas together and determine whether the parties were all live men or whether we saw them only in a prophetic vision, and that we were only wandering in the haze of dreamland. At that moment steps the genial manager of the Bank of Montreal and says to one of the parties present "Could you not come me by not placing one of your electric light poles in front of the private entrance to our banking house on South street." It seemed no longer any use to try to convince ourselves that was not all a dream of the future that was running through our mind. Presently we were awakened from our reverie by the shrill whistle of a locomotive and realized that we were surrounded by stern facts. How changed the scene in the valley at the confluence of the Bow and Elbow Rivers in the last six years. Six short years that have fled as on the wings of a whirlwind to the vortex of eternity, but not without leaving a record in the valley of the Bow River, remarkable in the history of the continent of America. Six years ago we walked over the present site of Calgary with Mr. W. B. Scarr and Mr. E. B. Osler, two of the C. P. R. townsite trustees, for whom two of our leading streets are named. It was then almost an unbroken prairie and with the exception of a temporary shack put up by the C.P.R., there was not as much lumber in use in any dwelling or dwellings as there is in the side walk in front of the Herald office. We will not attempt now to describe what the Calgary of today is, as any fair report of it would fill several newspapers. And indeed it is not necessary to write up Calgary, as it is now "known and read of by all men."

We come now to our proposition in the rule of three, which reads thus: If six years has produced such results what will the next six years develop. To work out this problem is a task which we think few are sanguine enough to realize what the true answer may be. It is a well understood principle in nature that during the first period of existence the growth of everything is small compared with what follow, provided there exists sufficient nutritive power to keep up the growth in consonance with the governing laws of nature. That such is the case in Calgary and the district of which it forms the centre, there exists no doubt. The vast fertile country by which we are surrounded now proven to be one of the best grain countries in the world. The unlimited prairie pasturage, feeding and fattening horses, cattle and sheep the year round. The numberless streams of purest water. The incomprehensible millions of anthracite and other coal distributed all over Alberta. The abundance of superior timber and last but not least the temperate climate and pure air are factors to be considered in working out our sum in the rule of three.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, Oct. 10.

The Assembly met this afternoon at the usual hour. The Speaker laid on the table the replies of the Dominion Government to the memorials of the Assembly passed last session, and the papers concerning the Roman Catholic School District of St. Patrick.

Mr. Sutherland brought in the address in reply to the speech from the throne, which was laid over to be cyclostyled. Mr. Betts objecting on the ground of the extra cost.

The following notices were given:

By Mr. Mitchell to add the name of Mr. Thorburn to the agricultural committee.

By Mr. Peaman of the introduction of a bill to amend chapter 9.

By Mr. Cayley of a bill to amend the ordinance respecting births, marriages and deaths, also a bill respecting mills.

By Mr. Betts of a bill to amend the school ordinance.

By Mr. Haultain of a bill to amend the lunatic ordinance.

Messrs. Tweed and Cayley moved that Messrs. Richardson, Ross, mover and seconder, be a committee to consider the question of irrigation in certain parts of the Territories. Carried.

Mr. Davidson introduced a bill to amend the ordinance re hawkers and peddlers.

The ordinance respecting cheese and butter manufacturing corporations was introduced.

The mechanic's liens bill was advanced a stage and a long discussion took place on Mr. Cayley's proposed amendment, which is from the Ontario act and empowers lien holders to sell the goods covered by his lien after advertising in the nearest newspaper and notifying the owner. Mr. Cayley said contractors had on several occasions skipped from Calgary and in such cases the laborers whose wages were unpaid had no redress except through the courts, a course which proved very cumbersome. Several objections being raised the bill was allowed to stand until to-morrow.

Mr. Cayley's amendments to the municipal ordinance were read a second time. He explained that they had been carefully drawn up by the solicitor and town council of Calgary and were merely intended to make the ordinance more workable. It was referred to the municipal committee.

Mr. Mitchell's bill withdrawing the Saskatchewan district from the provisions of the poisons ordinance was read a second time, after which the House adjourned.

TUESDAY, Oct. 25.

After the opening of the House today Mr. Neff gave notice that he would move tomorrow that the memorials of last session and the replies thereto be referred to the committee on agriculture.

Messrs. Ross and Jelly moved that Messrs. Tweed, Davidson, Second and Richardson be a committee to consider the question of prairie and forest fires. Carried.

Mr. Cayley introduced the following bill: An ordinance respecting married women's property, to amend the ordinance on births, marriages and deaths, and an ordinance respecting mills.

Mr. Neff seconded by Mr. Richardson moved that Messrs. Haultain, Oliver, Betts, the mover and seconder, be a committee to take into consideration the Northwest Territories bill introduced by Hon. Mr. Dewdney last session and afterwards withdrawn; also to consider how said bill would affect the Territories in the event of its becoming law and to suggest any amendments that may consider in the interests of the Territories. Carried.

On motion Mr. Thorburn's name was added to the agricultural committee.

Mr. Haultain introduced his bill to amend the ordinance respecting lunatics.

The address in reply was then passed through committee of the whole and ordered to be communicated to His Honor by the advisory board. The address is as follows:

To His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories:

Sir: The Legislative Assembly begs to thank your Honor for your Honor's speech on the opening of this session and for the sentiments contained therein.

We have no doubt that Your Honor's recent tour through the country will be of value in acquainting the Executive with the needs and wishes of the Territories.

The granting of passes by the Canadian Pacific Railway, was in our opinion, of signal benefit to the immigration interests of the country and was attended with significant results; we join with Your Honor in thanking the Canadian Pacific Railway management for their courtesy in granting passes and hope in the interests of immigration the policy will be continued.

We join heartily in thanking the Northwest Mounted Police for their services in many parts of the country in enforcing the provisions of the Prairie Fire Ordinance, and sincerely hope that in every part of the Northwest their efforts will be equally commendable. It is a matter of regret that while the majority of the posts are all everything that can be desired in this respect, there are a few where the enforcement of the provisions of this ordinance do not seem to be recognized as a Police duty. We feel confident that the Commissioner need only to be assured of this to make the success of the Police service completely satisfactory in this respect, as well by calling the attention of the various detachments to the matter and by strengthening such posts as are peculiarly situated, with regard to the recurrence of this evil.

In the matter of schools we think the progress shown is an exceedingly gratifying and healthy one, and we are convinced that no country in the world with conditions in anyway similar to the Northwest offers better educational facilities to its people. The establishment of union schools where a higher grade prevails, has met with widespread approval, and has been attended with satisfactory results.

The system of appropriating equally among the different Electoral Districts the whole of the monies set apart for "roads and bridges" when it is expended under the supervision of the member, seems to us to be the only practicable one at present and we are glad to be assured that it has been found in practice to work to the best advantage.

We recognize with Your Honor the importance of strictly adhering to the rules of Parliamentary practice.

Our thanks are due to Your Honor for informing us that the accounts for the past and the estimates for the present year will be laid before us and we will respectfully consider these estimates, which will, we trust, be found to have been prepared with a due regard to economy and the efficiency of the public service.

Your Honor may rest assured that these several subjects and any others that may be brought before us, will receive our earnest consideration and that with you we trust that the result of our deliberations may under the Divine blessing tend to promote the wellbeing and prosperity of the Territories.

Mr. Oliver asked a very pertinent question of the advisory board while the address was being considered—what were the relations between the board and His Honor. As a member of the House he had given the advisory board his fullest confidence and support and he considered it to be the duty of the Board to reciprocate that confidence.

Mr. Haultain replied in a general way and said the board had always been frank with the House.

The ordinance to incorporate cheese and butter companies was read a second time and deferred to the agricultural committee, after which the House adjourned.

REGINA, Oct. 23.

The Speaker took his chair at the usual hour.

WANT TO MAKE BEER.

Mr. Tweed presented a petition from Medicine Hat asking for the right to manufacture beer in the Territories. It was signed by 300 persons. Tweed gave notice of a special committee on the subject.

PAIRING FIRES.

Mr. Record moved his resolution on the subject of prairie fires, asking the Dominion Government in view of the serious losses caused by sparks from locomotives to pass an act compelling railway companies to plow a break 8 feet wide 200 feet from the track along each side of the track on uncultivated land and that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to each member of the Commons and Senate for the Territories with the request that they endeavor to have the act put through. The mover made a speech on the whole question of prairie fires, referring to the vital character of the question and to the great destruction which had been caused by such fires, especially this year. The resolution was passed and ordered to be cyclostyled for tomorrow.

Mr. Thorburn's bill on bulls was advanced a stage. It proposes to make the operation of the ordinance compulsory instead of optional.

MEMORIALS TO BE RE-HARKED.

Messrs. Neff and Richardson moved that the replies to the memorials of last session be referred to the committee on agriculture, the mover explaining that as they had got nothing they asked for the best course was to try again.

On motion of Messrs. Ross and Second a committee consisting of Messrs. Jelly, Tweed, Richardson and Davidson was appointed to consider the question of prairie and forest fires, with power to send for papers and persons.

MR. CAYLEY AND THE ESTIMATES.

Mr. Cayley asked the Advisory Board if they had signified to the Lt. Governor as his advisors on matters of finance their wish to be consulted and to prepare in conjunction with His Honor the estimates for the Department of the Interior and had they requested His Honor to submit the estimates to the House.

Mr. Haultain in reply to the first question said he was not aware the Board had any such wish. The matter had been discussed before and he would suggest that they pass a memorial or an address on the subject. As to the second question it was well known that as an officer of the Dominion Government, responsible only to the Interior Department, His Honor declined to consult anyone on the subject of these figures.

The Hawkers and pedlars bill was read a second time and referred. It includes agricultural implements among the articles which may be sold from samples without license.

The first bill of the session to be passed was Mr. Haultain's bill amending the ordinance respecting lunatics. The amendment is only a formal one.

AID TO HOSPITALS.

The greater part of the afternoon was taken up in committee of the whole on the bill to regulate public aid to hospitals and other charitable institutions, the whole question being well thrashed out by Messrs. Neff, Oliver, Haultain, Richardson, Cayley, Second and others.

The points bill was put through committee, after which the House adjourned, having made a three hours sitting, the longest so far this session.

THURSDAY, Oct. 24th

After the reading of the minutes today Mr. Ross asked when the public accounts would be laid before the House. Mr. Haultain replied that the accounts would come down as soon as possible.

Mr. Cayley asked a series of questions about some work on a bridge in his district and the payment therefor. The leader of the Advisory Council said a full answer would be made tomorrow.

The following bills were introduced by Mr. Cayley to incorporate the Calgary Water Power Company (Limited); by Mr. Cayley to amend the Agricultural Societies; by Mr. Reaman to amend the Statute Labor and Fire Ordinance; by Mr. Neff to amend the ordinance incorporating Moosomin; by Mr. Betts to amend the school ordinance.

On motion Mr. Lineham was placed on the Agricultural Committee.

Mr. Cayley's bill to amend the births, deaths and marriages ordinance was ruled out on account of a clause affecting revenue.

The bill on mills, fixing one eighth as the maximum proportion to be exacted by millers for grinding and bolting was advanced a stage.

The poisons ordinance and the medical ordinance were read a third time and passed, when the House adjourned.

REGINA, Oct. 26.

Mr. Richardson of Grenfell gave notice today of the following resolution to be moved on Wednesday next: Whereas the granting of permits to sell four per cent beer in the Territories has been productive of evil to the moral and physical well being of the people and where such sales have a tendency to increase treating and drinking customs, which are now everywhere acknowledged to be among

Grand Banquet at Carlyle.

The rank is but guine stamp,
The man's the gold for a' that.

It has been well known for some time that the Dominion Government intended removing the Coteau land district office from Carlyle to Cannington Manor, which removal covers Mr. McHugh, the present agent's connection with the office, he having decided to join his brothers in the ranching industry near Calgary. On the eve of his departure, the 19th inst., a few of Mr. McHugh's friends decided to tender him a banquet. They were heartily supported by the officers of the different political associations throughout the district.

The banquet was given at the Royal Hotel, Carlyle, and was in every respect a grand success, there being nearly 100 present, while Mr. Thomson, the caterer, executed his part in his usual good style. Early in the afternoon vehicles began to arrive from Cannington, Arcola, Clare Perry and Dalesboro. Among those present were, Messrs. Long, Dickie, Wiggins, McEwen, Hislop, Scott, McEwen, Lee, McEachen, Coffey and Smith. Mr. D. A. McEwen read the following address which was cheerfully responded to by Mr. McHugh:

To J. J. McHugh, Dominion Land Agent:

The settlers of the Coteau land district cannot allow the occasion of your departure from our midst to pass without expressing our deep regret, and we trust that you may yet see fit to locate amongst us in your new undertaking. In the discharge of your duties as land agent we have always found you obliging and painstaking, courteous and affable to all, ever ready to give advice and counsel to new settlers. Take from us, Sir, to yourself and Mrs. McHugh the best of wishes, and we hope that we may frequently have the pleasure of seeing you amongst us. Signed on behalf of the settlers,

WM. WIGGINS.

J. DICKIE.

Carlyle, Assn., Oct. 21.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CASE.

An interesting case, which will be a difficult matter for the courts, happened recently in the Red Cross hospital, Lyons. A patient was placed under the influence of Chloroform in order to be subjected to a most painful operation. At the first incision, however, the man, who was unusually strong, became conscious. Crazy with pain, he tore the knife from the operating physician, and despite the presence of several friends he plunged it an instant into the hearts of Professor Nagout and a young man who was acting as witness. The double murderer was taken to the torture room and bound. Recognizing the fact that no parent could influence him the operation was successfully performed without its use. The interest in his trial, which will take place in the near future, lies in the defence that he committed the double crime in a fit of temporary insanity caused by the extreme pain. The case will form an important chapter in the history of medical law.—N. Y. Tribune.

A PHOTOGRAPHIC FEAT.

One of the most remarkable feats of photography on record is the photographing of the triple explosion at Antwerp, or, if not the explosion, the immense cloud of smoke produced at the moment. The current number of La Nature gives an illustration copied from a photograph of the huge cloud that shot up in the air roughly in shape like an inverted Florence flask, when the explosion occurred. It has been estimated as being 1,700 or 1,000 feet across, and, according to the journal quoted, the cloud remained motionless for about a quarter of an hour, preserving the form recorded by the photograph. It seems very remarkable that just at the instant some one should have been ready with camera and plate, and quick-witted enough, notwithstanding the shock, to secure the view in time. The author of the negative is given as M. L. Van Neck.—British Journal of Photography.

ESQUIMAUX IN NOVA SCOTIA.

At a missionary meeting in Newark, N. J., this week, an Esquimaux priest from Nova Scotia, the Rev. Simon Gibbons, was one of the speakers. He said that at Cape Breton, where he was stationed for many years, he was in the habit of going on long journeys on snowshoes, and he was often compelled to follow out caves in snow banks, lie down in these caves, and sleep at night to protect himself from the violence of the elements. He also said that there are but three brick or stone churches in Nova Scotia. He added that his parish is thirty-seven miles long and comprises seven mission stations, and that for the first time in his ministry he is in access of a railway station. He spoke of the devotion of the Christian Esquimaux to the church, and told how on one occasion when he was compelled to make a journey of fifteen miles through deep snow a body of the Esquimaux tramped ahead of him on snowshoes breaking a path, and then tramped back, making a walk of thirty miles without even stopping for food.—Rochester America.

A Heavy Sentence.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Sergeant Nagues has been sentenced to imprisonment for life for offering to sell a Lebel cartridge to Count von Moltke.

Many Bonds Stolen.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 22.—The Two Republics (newspapers) tell of the robbery of $2,500,000 in interior debt bonds for the fifth section of the National Treasury. It is stated that one thousand bonds of the national value of $1,500 each, but with a cash value of over $1,000,000 were stolen. They are reported to have been in London. Several persons have been arrested in connection with the robbery. Gen. Hinojos, Secretary of War, states that the rumor of the robbery is true, but that the bonds were not signed. Senor Espinosa, federal treasurer, says that the robbery is not so as reported. The bonds were in books, and it is the custom of the treasury that no bonds are ever signed in books until issued.

ed several years ago from Kimberley on his first journey he drove before him a lightly laden donkey carrying camp equipment and a few hatter goods. The donkey and its little load comprised his entire expedition. At the Zambesi he traded his donkey for a boat, and he made a number of long excursions up the Zambesi's tributaries. His map, giving rather minute topographical details of the country between Matabeleland and the Zambesi, especially the course of the numerous streams, is in the possession of the Royal geographical society here. He started on his second expedition nearly two years ago, intending to make the first ascent of the great Loangwa tributary of the Zambesi, and finally to establish a trading post on lake Bangweulu. Late in 1887 he entered the Loangwa and started north on his long river journey, and it was on this river that he is reported to have been killed.

The dark cloud that had hung so long over the land on the other side of the Irish Channel was slowly lifting and the bright light that was revealed was the dawn of better and brighter days for the people, not only to Ireland, but of England and Wales. Mr. Gladstone resumed his seat amid cheering that lasted several minutes.

The Parnell Commission.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Parnell commission resumed its sitting yesterday. Little public interest was manifested in the proceedings. Mr. Biggar, M. EQUIMAX IN NOVOTRA.
 AT a missionary meeting in Newark, N. J., this week, an Equimaxian priest from Nova Scotia, the Rev. Simon Hibbert, told the story of his life. He said that at age fifteen, where he was stationed for many years, he was in the habit of going on long journeys on snowshoes, and he was once compelled to hollow out caves in the snow. When in these caves, and deep at night to get away from the coldness of the elements. He also said that there are but three brick or stone churches in Nova Scotia. He added that he parish is thirty-seven miles long and thirty miles wide. He said that he had for the first time in his ministry he is across of a railway station. He spoke of the devotion of the Christian Equimaxian to the church, and told of one on a journey when he was compelled to make a journey of thirty miles through the snow a body of the Equimaxian trapped dead of him on snowshoes breaking a path, and then tramped back, making a path of thirty miles without even stopping.

Balfour is Bitter.

MANCHESTER, Oct. 22.—Mr. Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, in a speech here last night denied that Home Rule was the real motive power in deciding the recent elections. The Gladstonian successes, he declared, were due to Socialist agitation. The Irish tenants wanted Home Rule in order to get power to appropriate somebody's property. Mr. Gladstone might not look beyond Home Rule, but Mr. Labouchere cared less for Home Rule than for social spoliation. The Gladstonians were trying to debauch the nation and destroy the union. He could not believe that permanent power would be secured by a party that outraged the fundamental principles upon which every civilized society rested.

Assassinations Attempted.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—Prince William of Wurtemberg, nephew of Karl I., King of Wurtemberg, and heir presumptive to the throne, while driving to church in the city of Ludwigsburg this morning was fired at by a man on the sidewalk. The shot did not take effect and the prince escaped unhurt. His assailant was arrested. When asked why he sought to kill the Prince he explained excitedly: "It is time Wurtemberg had a Catholic king." It is believed that the man is deranged.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 22.—Count Okuma, minister of foreign affairs, was slightly wounded today by a would be assassin. The latter committed suicide.

The Parnell Commission.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The Parnell Commission will resume work tomorrow.

Jesuits Driven Out.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The Zanzibar agent of the London Missionary Society reports that the natives have driven out the Jesuits from Ujijima and destroyed their mission stations.

Gladstone Speaks.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The meeting of Liberal electors of Southport this afternoon, who gathered to listen to a great speech by Mr. Gladstone, proved most enthusiastic and was one of the most successful political events held in England for a long time. Mr. Gladstone was at his best and for one hour and ten minutes spoke to his auditors with all his old time vim and eloquence. He reviewed the work of the Liberal party during the past 21 years, paid a tribute to the laudable anxiety of the powers to postpone a European crisis, referred to a certain question as a formidable menace to the peace of Europe. He criticized at length the Government's work and claimed that all its useful measures were liberal. In his peroration the orator urged all factions of the Liberal party to forget minor differences and to join hands in the settlement of the greatest question of the day. The dark cloud that had hung so long over the land on the other side of the Irish Channel was slowly lifting and the bright light that was revealed was the dawn of better and brighter days for the people, not only to Ireland, but of England and Wales. Mr. Gladstone resumed his seat amid cheering that lasted several minutes.

Tough Times on the Old Sod.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The evictions in Ireland no longer attract much attention here, but occasionally a case of unusual hardship raises a ripple of excitement. The last is that of an old man just 100 years of age, who has been for life a tenant on the Olphert estate and who was yesterday driven from his home by the eviction officers and left to live or die on the highway.

Charles Bradlaugh passed a bad night. Old Country Elections.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The election for member parliament for Brighton was held at Brighton today. Gerald Loder, the Unionist candidate was elected, receiving 7,132 votes. Sir Robert Peel, Gladstonian, received 4,625. The Conservative majority at the last election was 3,242, so that the result shows the liberal gain to be 745 votes.

The reply of Lord Salisbury to the recent memorial of the Baptist union on the subject of the persecution of Christians in Crete is printed this morning. He says the newspaper reports of the outrages are grossly exaggerated. The Daily News today says that the plea that the newspaper reports of outrages are exaggerated is in itself an admission that the most hideous and abominable guilt exists.
